This years meeting was held at Floyd Memorial Hospital and Health Services in. FMHHS is located in New Albany Indiana, also known as the Sunny Side of Louisville and Kentuckiana.

Hosted by Point of Care Coordinator Lynn Marie Weber MT, POCS, the meeting was well attended by around 30 Point of Care Coordinators from Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio.

The Vendor Exhibit took up two spaces within the hospital due to it's size. Fifteen Companies attended and sponsored our event.

Registration is over and Breakfast was great

Come on

Let's get this party started

Breakfast and Lunch sponsored by Telcor and CoaguSense

A great presentation by Norman Moore PhD on Rapid Molecular Point of Care Testing.

What a way to start.

After Norm's presentation he took the time to answer our questions.

This excellent presentation made you think hard about not only antibiotics we take but also antibiotics going into our food source.

Great slide and discussion covering comparing Rapid Immunoassay, Lateral Flow Immunoassay, Molecular PCR, and Rapid Molecular testing.

Sponsored by Alere Acute Care

BREAK TIME

...time for snacks, drinks and the Vendor Fair

Your First IQCP Inspection-Helpful hints to prepare for your first IQCP inspection.
This excellent presentation was given by Edwina Szelag MHM, BSMT (ASCP)

What can we say about Edwina?

- 2008 POCC of the year
- Co-Chair and Co Founder of Central Florida POC Network
- Board Certified ASCP
- Clinical Laboratory Consultant

Edwina is very knowledgeable on IQCP and gave us a lot of information to help us on our next inspection.

Gotcha!

Sneaky Edwina Szelaq presented a surprised Steve Valorz with an award honoring him for his contributions to Point of Care Testing over the years.

Karen Jenkins

Karen Jenkins, MT(ASCP)

Point of Care Coordinator for Emory Healthcare in Atlanta Georgia

Karen shared with us the Fun and Challenges of Point of Care Testing Implementation. This brought a lively round of questions after her presentation.

Karen is a founding member of the Georgia Point of Care Network and currently Chair's the American Association of Clinical Chemistry (AACC) Critical and Point of Care Testing Division.

She is one of the Medical Technologists that staff the Serious and Communicable Disease Unit Laboratory at Emory - better known as the "Ebola Unit".

She has participated in many Joint Commission, State of Georgia and CAP inspections and monitors all aspects of Point of Care Testing. Other duties include evaluation and recommendation of new or changes in POC methodologies, procedure development (with Nursing Team input), and training POC staff on new programs.
