On Friday May 20th 2011 the OHIO Point of Care Network held their Annual Spring Meeting.

This years event was held in New Albany Indiana at Floyd Memorial Hospital and Health Services.

- 8:30am and people started arriving to enjoy the day.
- Plenty of food and coffee was available for the hungry crowd to fuel up for the day's event.
- Registration booth was manned by Jennifer Hacker POCC for Baptist Hospital East, Louisville KY and Teresa Fillingim POCC for Morgan Hospital & Medical Center in Martinsville IN.
- Radiometer and Roche sponsored the breakfast.

Stephanie Walker, MT DLM (ASCP) cm, MHA

“Writing and Implementing an Effective Quality Management Program”

Stephanie works for the VA hospital in Louisville KY. She is the Point of Care Testing Coordinator, Reference Testing, Lab Quality Management, and Central Processing Supervisor. She oversees several facilities throughout Kentucky and Indiana. In her “spare time” Stephanie is a CAP Inspector so her presentation gave insight on what she looks for. The Clinical and Economic Impact of POCT’

As an active Emergency Room physician, Dr. Maloney gave an excellent presentation as seen through the physicians viewpoint. He gave us all thoughts to ponder. Dr. Maloney’s program was sponsored by Alere

Lunch, Vendors and Tours.

Lunch was sponsored by Alere

See, no one up in the Vendor area as we were all eating Panera Bread for lunch and yakking away.

Sorry, guys, no pictures except one, were taken as we were all busy socializing, eating and catching up with old acquaintances.

Can't forget to mention that we also got to meet people we have known for a while through POC networks, yet never met.

Lots of fun!

John J. Ancy, MA, RRT, Senior Clinical Consultant, Instrumentation Laboratory

“Surviving Sepsis” ... sponsored by IL

Sepsis is responsible for as many deaths as MI's. John covered current, 2008, guidelines for Surviving Sepsis. These have evolved since the worldwide campaign was initiated in

- Several hospitals represented at this meeting have already established Sepsis protocols.
- Others have indicated protocols are in development.
- Floyd Memorial established a FAST team in 2008 to meet these protocols. The FAST team is comprised of nursing, respiratory and house physicians

Can't forget the door prizes.
Along with thanks' for those that helped.

Also, no one escaped
without signing the poster. Have to have something to hang onto to prove you guys were
at Floyd all day. As you can see Stephanie did not waste any time
getting up there to sign.

Thanks for making the 2011 Annual Spring Meeting such a success.

Each year we learn more and more and this venue allows us to learn and share with all our POCC associates.

The host facility changes and we have the advantage of visiting different hospitals each year.

Consider hosting 2012. I promise you won't regret it.
